    ZAWYA is a Java Spring MVC application, Facade and Service components were added to conveniently interface between the Controllers and Data Layer objects encouraging the re-use and implementation of common tasks.
    While most of ZCOM's component are taking its data from the core DB, we have added the TRKD (REST & SOAP WS) as the primary data source of Market Data, ElasticSearch for the Search features and Google Analytics API for Most Visited/Viewed content.

4.3.14 Load testing

Configuring Apache JMeter:

1. Download and Install Apache JMeter[736] 3.1 and upper versions. http://www.guru99.com/guide-to-install-jmeter.html
2. Once downloaded, move this file to your preferred location, extract it and go to the folder and then the bin directory.
3. Set Environment Variable, pointing at JMeter location.
4. For enabling plugins, download plugins-manager.jar[737] and put it into lib/ext directory, than restart JMeter.
5. Go to Option -> Plugin Manager -> Avaliable Plugins and install all plugins, click Apply Changes and Restart JMeter.
6. Open .jmx file, which is attached to this page.
   LoadWithNumberOfUsersTest.jmx[738]
7. In Thread Group control panel, enter Thread Properties for example : ThreadGroup[739] :
   a. Number of Threads(users) - number of users, connected to the target website from the table "Number of users"
   b. Ramp-Up Period - time, while all the users will start to work
   c. Loop Count - number of loops.
8. Go to Run->Start and start the execution.
9. After running the Test Plan, you will find generated file - .jtl and .png reports. (or http://learn-jmeter.blogspot.in/2016/10/how-to-generate-jmeter-report-dashboard.html)

While performing load testing I started with main page UAT6[740], and made HTTP Request with different number of users. The range of users varies from 500 to 7000 as in the table.

Particular load for 500 users:

- Response Time over Time[741] ;
- Response Code per Seconds[742];
- Running Users over Time[743];

I analyzed particular load for 1600 users with such metrics:

- Response Time over Time[744];
- Response Code per Seconds[745];
- Running Users over Time[746];

Particular load for 4600 users:

- Response Time over Time[747];
- Response Code per Seconds[748];
- Running Users over Time[749];

Summary: Below 1600 users, the website behaviors correctly. When increasing load and running test with more than 1600 users, the responding latency is increasing and number of users decreasing.

For checking performance of valuable parts of web-site, we should cover main parts of application with tests. For example (login into the app, etc..)
Open Apache JMeter and import LogginIntoAppTest.jmx [750], than enter Number of Threads(users), under which are going to run test. After running the test, folder "Graphs" will be generated in the folder, where *.jmx file was located.

Performance Testing:

While performing load testing of web-site, I found that SQL queries are performing not fast as expectted. It depends on many factors. One of them is time of performing SQL queries.

1. Download and install Oracle SQL Developer[751].
2. Connect to zawya VPN.
3. Create connection in Oracle SQL and connect to database with the following credentials :
   user-name : admin;
   password : admindev12.
   as here C[752]onnectionWithDataBase[753].
4. Create new SQL query.
5. For example such a query:

"SELECT STORY.ID_TRANSMISSION AS idTransmission, FEATURE.TITLE AS title, FEATURE.TEASER AS teaser, FEATURE.IMAGE AS image, nvl(FEATURE.CREATED_DATE, SYSDATE) AS createdDate, PROVIDER.DESCRIPTION AS source, STORY.CDE_METATYPE AS cdeMetatype, STORY.PROVIDER_INFO AS providerInfo

FROM FEATURE, FEATURE_SECTION, PROVIDER, STORY
WHERE FEATURE_SECTION.CDE_FEATURE = FEATURE.ID_FEATURE AND STORY.PUBLISHED = 1 AND TRUNC(FEATURE.CREATED_DATE) >= TRUNC(SYSDATE) - 21 AND FEATURE.IMAGE IS NOT NULL AND STORY.CDE_PROVIDER = PROVIDER.ID_PROVIDER AND FEATURE.CDE_TRANSMISSION =
STORY.ID_TRANSMISSION AND FEATURE.TYPE = 'CB' AND FEATURE_SECTION.SERVICE = 'ZCOM'
AND upper(STORY.LANGUAGE) = upper('EN') AND upper(FEATURE_SECTION.SECTION) = upper('Home')
ORDER BY nvl(FEATURE.CREATED_DATE, SYSDATE) DESC;"

6. Measure how fast query was performed.

Current query was performed in 0,202 seconds. When measuring, I got range of values from 0,197 seconds to 0,202 seconds depending of the complexity of query. A good rule of thumb is latency less than 25 ms. Values above are bad numbers. One of reasons of such delay is connection pool to database.

Summary: Actual current time of performing SQL queries is not good value. It depends of many factors. One of the reasons is cache[754] of database connections[755].

4.3.15 ZCOM Check List R3 new servers
